2014 Barolo: Surprise, Surprise...

"It's hard to believe, but the Vajra family keeps raising the bar. The 2014 Barolos are strong across the board, especially within the context of the vintage, but the flagship Bricco delle Viole is a truly special, moving wine."

"There are many things about this wine that are super-impressive, but what stands out most is how soft and silky the tannins are. ... yet also conveys the feeling of translucence that is such a signature of this site and wine."
